

VERY FEW CHANGES

Are Brought About By Tuesday's Elections In The States.

PERVERSE PENNSYLVANIA

Hopes to Revoke the Quasi-Officiality of the County Candidates.

One of the most strenuous political battles in the history of the state ended Tuesday evening, with the elusive eagle "Victory" perching on the topmost twig of the Pennsylvania plum tree. The voters in the country districts acquitted themselves nobly, but their good work was offset by the rampant frauds in the City of Brotherly Love. Anticipating that Patison would come to the city with a big majority, the Quasi machine threw open the flood-gates of corruption—and the result was an unprecedented plurality for Pennypacker and the other slated candidates also pulled through. An army of repeaters had been imported, organized and thoroughly drilled and in their nefarious work were aided and abetted by the police of Philadelphia. Voters were intimidated on all sides and the charges by Democratic watchers of violation of the election law were ignored and ridiculed. Pennypacker's plurality in Philadelphia is 97,000.

Few changes politically were made in the 42 states in which elections were held on Tuesday.

The contest in Bedford county was spirited from start to finish. The chairman of each party, with their lieutenants, labored with might and main to win, but Boss Reynolds' bodice campaign carried the machine candidates to victory. The "straight-laced" Republicans captured all of the officers but three—one legislator, a commissioner and an auditor, the two last named falling to our lot by reason of a friendly statute. Hon. E. S. Dyer was elected representative. G. H. Appelman will be the Democratic commissioner and E. A. Eshelberger the Democratic auditor. The successful Republican nominees are Hon. Alvin Evans, congressman; Dr. W. C. Miller, state senator; J. T. Alsip, legislator; H. W. Cogan, sheriff, E. H. Blackburn, prothonotary; Aaron Garber, register and recorder; J. S. Gayer, treasurer; R. H. Sell, Esq., district attorney; S. S. Baker and R. C. Smith, commissioners; Lewis Pittman and M. L. Staley, auditors; M. L. Sams, poor director; Dr. A. H. King, coroner.

Pennypacker has a plurality of 225 in the county. The normal Republican majorities are greatly reduced.

The unofficial returns are published on the fourth page and furnish interesting reading.

Philadelphia. November 6.—Complete unofficial returns from all the counties of Pennsylvania give Pennypacker over 140,000 majority over Governor Patison. Twenty-eight of the thirty-two congressmen elected in the state are Republicans. In the house 150 members will be Republicans, 43 Democrats and 2 Citizens' Union, giving Republicans a majority of 126 on joint ballot. In the senate 33 will be Republicans, ten Democrats and two Citizens'.

Altoona. November 5.—Blair county, complete: Pennypacker, 6,591; Patison, 5,960. Congress—Evans, Rep., 7,462; Creswell, Dem., 4,245. Legislature—Plummer, Rep., 5,903; Hewitt, Fusion, 4,435; Erwin, Rep., 6,575; McCullough, Fusion, 4,415.

Camden. November 5.—Camden county, complete: Pennypacker, 8,908; Patison, 8,594; Swallow, 329. Congress—Evans, Rep., 4,329. Legislature—Creswell, Dem., 5,187. Legislature—David, Rep., 9,102; Hohmann, Rep., 3,790; Izell, Dem., 3,339; Somerville, Dem., 3,350.

Fulton. November 5.—Fulton county, complete: Pennypacker, 8,111; Patison, 1,117; Swallow, 25. Congress—Mahan, Rep., 336; Huber, Dem., 1,069. Legislature—Hanks, Rep., 7,061; Kirk, Dem., 1,295. Senator—Miller, Rep., 811; Grof, Dem., 1,076.

Somerset. November 4.—Pennypacker's plurality, 3,000, is a Republican gain of 704. Weller and Lambert, Rep., are elected to the legislature. Cooper, for congress, has a plurality in the county of 3,000. Miller is elected senator.

Albama. November 4.—The full Democratic state ticket is elected by a large majority. The "Lily White" Republican vote was not large as expected. Under the new Constitution Alabama changes its date of election from August to November, elects its governor and other state officers for four years and makes them ineligible for re-election. The legislature will meet in regular session once in four years. The following Democratic ticket has been elected: Governor, William D. Jelks; lieutenant governor, Russell M. Cunningham. The legislature will choose a United States senator. The term of E. W. Pettus, Dem., expires March 3, 1903.

Little Rock. November 4.—The entire Democratic congressional ticket was elected in this state with practically no opposition.

California. November 4.—In complete returns from 69 precincts in San Francisco give this vote for governor: Franklin B. Lane, Dem., 619; George C. Pardee, Rep., 493. Registrar Walsh estimates that Lane will carry the city by 10,000 or 11,000.

Colorado. November 4.—An unusually heavy vote was cast for all officers in Colorado today, in spite of the extremely cold weather, with snow at Colorado Springs and Cripple Creek. No serious disturbances occurred, but several arrests on charges of repeaters were made. Returns lead Republicans to the belief that they have elected their congressional candidates. Democrats claim the legislature. The women's vote was light.

Connecticut. November 4.—One hundred votes in Connecticut, exclusive of all large cities, give a plurality for

MISS GRACE C. HUMBIRD

Becomes the Bride of Ralph Longenecker—Miss Emma M. White Married To Dr. Harry R. Brightbill.

The Pittsburgh Post of October 31 contained the following account of the Longenecker-Humbird nuptials:

"Social interest centered yesterday in the wedding of Miss Grace Humbird, the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James S. Humbird, of Morewood avenue, Shadyside, and Ralph Longenecker. While there were the usual elaborate floral decorations, the guests were limited to the family connection and more intimate friends. The bride is a debutante of a season or two ago and has been the recipient of numerous attentions. She is an attractive and accomplished girl. Mr. Longenecker belongs to an old family of Bedford, Pa.

"The ceremony was performed amid a profusion of flowers and banded foliage in the Humbird drawing room at half past 4 o'clock. Rev. Henry T. McClelland, of the Bellefield Presbyterian church, officiated. The bride was given away by her father and wore a daintily fashioned gown of white chiffon, with a full length train and veil. Hair and corsage ornaments were of pearls. The bridal bouquet was of lilies and white roses and the veil was fastened with a small semi-crown of orange blossoms. The maid of honor, Miss Eleanor Humbird, was gown in white chiffon and carried white roses and the other two sisters of the bride, Miss Emma C. Humbird and Miss Anna B. Humbird, acted as bridesmaids and wore dainty gowns of white chiffon, more, hand embroidered. Their bouquets were of pink roses and lilies.

"Mr. Longenecker's best man was his brother, Russell Longenecker, of Bedford, and the ushers were Charles Longenecker, John C. Humbird, James King Scott and Soutard Ray.

"All of the lower part of the house was given over to the reception, with its attendant service. Small tables were used, with a larger table reserved for the bride party. This was decorated in pink and white, with a large oval center of pink roses. The other rooms were handsomely decorated with yellow and white chrysanthemums and southern ivy, which formed a broad frieze. An orchestra was stationed in the hall. There were many out of town people among the guests, members of Mr. Longenecker's family from Bedford, and friends from Philadelphia and the eastern part of the state.

"Later in the evening the young couple left for a wedding tour from which they will return to make their home at 406 Morewood avenue, Shadyside."

The groom is a son of ex-Judge and Mrs. J. H. Longenecker, of Bedford. He is a graduate of Yale, Class of '94, and of the Pittsburgh Law school, Pittsburgh, in 1897, since which time he has been an instructor in that institution. He was admitted to the Pittsburg Bar in 1897 and is one of the leading young lawyers of the Smoky City. He is a talented, popular young man and has a host of friends here, who heartily join in the good wishes showered upon the happy couple.

A very pretty wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. W. White, at Wednesbury at high noon, when their daughter, Miss Emma M. White, became the wife of Dr. Harry R. Brightbill, son of Mr. and Mrs. Franklin B. Brightbill, of this place. The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. H. Lundin, pastor of the Reformed church at Mann's Choice, assisted by Rev. P. P. Eyer, of the Methodist Episcopal church at Saxton.

The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Ethel White, as bridesmaid, and John F. Brightbill, a brother of the groom, was best man. Under the nuptial the bride party stood under a large ball made of evergreens.

After the marriage rite an elaborate wedding dinner was served.

The house was beautifully decorated with cut flowers and ferns, the colors, white and blue, predominating. The happy couple left on the afternoon train for a visit to Washington, D. C., and Baltimore, Md. They were accompanied to Huntington by the following young folks: Misses Alice Eyster, Aetia Hoff, Noia Cypher, Amy Stoler, Ethel White, Messrs. H. E. Nyeon, Anson Hershberger, James E. Bitchey, Charles Rieder, all of Saxton, and John F. Brightbill, of Bedford.

The bride is a graduate of the Saxton high school, and a most estimable young woman. Dr. Brightbill was graduated from the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery, Baltimore, in 1898 and for the past four years has been practicing his profession at Saxton. He is a skillful dentist and an excellent young man. Both bride and groom are very popular and are prominent in the social circles of Saxton.

THE NATION'S THANKSGIVING.

The President Calls Upon the People to Give Thanks.

The President's Thanksgiving proclamation, issued on October 29, is as follows:

According to the yearly custom of our people it falls upon the president at this season to appoint a day of festival and thanksgiving to God.

Over a century and a quarter has passed since this country took its place among the nations of the earth, and during that time we have had, on the whole, more to be thankful for than has fallen to the lot of any other people. Generation after generation has grown to manhood and passed away. Each has had to bear its peculiar burdens, each to face its special crises and each has known years of grim trials when the country was menaced by malice, domestic or foreign; when the land of the free was heavy with the drought of flood or pestilence, when in bodily distress anguish of soul it paid the penalty of folly and a forward tread.

Nevertheless decade by decade we have struggled onward and upward; we have abundantly enjoyed material well-being, and under the favor of the Most High we are striving earnestly to achieve moral and spiritual uplifting. The year that has just closed has been one of peace and of overflowing plenty. Rarely has any people enjoyed greater prosperity than we are now enjoying.

For this we render heartfelt and solemn thanks to the Giver of good, and we seek to give earnestly to God only, but by the grace of the way in which we do our duty to ourselves and to our fellow men.

Now, therefore, I, Theodore Roosevelt, president of the United States, do hereby designate as a day of general thanksgiving Thursday, November 27, and do recommend that throughout the land the people cease from their ordinary occupations and in their several homes and places of worship render thanks unto Almighty God for the manifold blessings of the past year.

In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.

Done at the city of Washington, this 26th day of October, in the year of our Lord, 1902, and of the independence of the United States the 27th.

THEODORE ROOSEVELT.

Miss Georgia May.

Miss Georgia May, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George B. May, formerly of Everett, died at her home in Redlands, Cal., Tuesday morning. Miss May became ill while attending the State Normal school at Shippensburg several years ago and since then has been failing. With the hope of restoring her health, her parents removed to California last February. The deceased is survived by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. May's four other children preceded Miss Georgia to the world beyond. Miss May was a member of the M. E. church. She was a beautiful, winsome young lady and a general favorite. She was about 35 years of age. The body will be brought to Everett for burial and will likely arrive there next Monday.

Sudden Death of George England.

George England, who lived between Everett and Gapville, was returning home on Wednesday with his team when he became ill. He was riding one of his horses and told the man who was with him that he wasn't feeling well and would get off the animal and onto the wagon; but instead of getting on the vehicle he sat down on the ground by the side of the road and a companion drove on a short distance and then stopped and went back to Mr. England. He was startled to find that the latter was dead. Mr. England was about 50 years old. He is survived by his wife, who was Miss Anna O'Neal, daughter of Henry O'Neal, and ten children.

Mrs. Maggie Deysman.

Mrs. Maggie Deysman died on Thursday last week at Water-side. She leaves one son, her father and mother and one brother to mourn their loss. She was a woman of strong constitution, sociable and friendly and was always ready to do a favor for any one. She, with her husband, had lived with the Lutheran church several years ago, but since the family graveyard was at Lyonsburg she was buried there by the Reformed minister, Rev. E. W. Stonebraker, on Saturday.

William J. Kerr.

William J. Kerr, a prominent citizen of Harrison township, died on October 24. The deceased was born, June 15, 1825, on the farm where he spent his whole life. His wife, whose maiden name was Ann Maria Turner, preceded him to the spirit world about three months ago. He is survived by five sons and one daughter. Mr. Kerr was an honest, upright citizen.

At the regular monthly meeting of the directors of the poor held at the almshouse on Wednesday bills to the amount of $716.96 were paid, the principal ones being, outdoor relief $195; for support of feeble minded children at Polk, $47.50; commitment of three deaf and dumb children to the Western Pennsylvania Institution for the Deaf and Dumb at Pittsburgh, $35.30; H. C. Heckerman, $71.70; Ringgold, Reinhart Co., $71.70; wages, $25.

LETTER FROM MEXICO

The Humble Peon Is More Independent Today Than Ever Before.

HARD LOT OF THE CLERK.

Relief Will Come by Improving Upon the Young the Dignity of Labor in More Material Lines of Industry.

MEXICO CITY, MEX., October 31.—If there is any class that suffers rather than reaps a benefit from present conditions in Mexico it is that of the small salaried clerk. The great demand for labor during the past few years has resulted in wages being doubled in many lines of industry. The humble peon, whose wants are entirely supplied by the products of the country and whose standard of living has not changed, is more independent today than ever before.

The capitalist finds many profitable openings for investment and the merchant waxes rich in the prolonged era of general prosperity. The lot of the clerk, however, has not improved—always a numerous class in this country where any form of manual labor is shunned by all except the lowest classes, the army of mediocrities. The result is that the salaries for this class of employees have remained stationary instead of advancing in proportion to increased commercial activity and according to the increased cost of living. The demand for better residences has raised rents to practically double the charges of ten years ago in all the larger cities of Mexico. The increased use of imported goods and a general elevation of the standard of living, taken in connection with the decline in silver, have all combined to render the support of a family upon a small salary doubly burdensome.

In many of the smaller interior towns of Mexico the old order of things still reigns. Rents are extremely reasonable, a plain but wholesome table is spread and the dictates of fashion do not add to the family expense. In the capital, however, the stamp of approval has been placed upon imported hats and carpets and furniture. The clerk, whose income has not risen in proportion to the growing demand for luxuries, with added cost of fuel and meat, finds life a struggle. The clerk, who ten years ago, could support a family in comparative comfort upon one hundred dollars a month now finds such a condition possible only in the smaller cities remote from the progressive influence of the railroad, and with the modern business whirl in the capital, it requires from two to three times as much to maintain comfortably the same relative position in society. Relief from such a condition will come only by impressing upon the younger generation the dignity of labor in more material lines of industry.

The ranks of the clerks and minor government employees are constantly being added to by hundreds who study for the professions, and finding themselves overcrowded, or because of their own incapacity, must fall back upon the general routine of clerical work. Industrial schools in a number of lines are doing good work in this country, but many more are needed, and even more important is the necessity for drawing the feet of laborer not only dignified and honorable, but by acquiring a practical education, to secure comfort and possible wealth, much more certainly than through the overcrowded professions or the treadmill of the ill-paid clerk.

Cheap fuel for Mexico is always an absorbing topic of business speculation. The present interest has turned from prospecting for coal to an oil supply. The great development so far has taken place in the vicinity of Tamaulipas, where a heavy product of oil and asphaltum has been discovered. The California company that is exploiting the district expresses its faith in the announcement that it will be long before a fuel oil for shipment. The prospecting that is being done in the Valley of Mexico near the capital leads many to believe that oil will yet be found in this highland region. During the last month two companies have been formed to secure leases and prospect in the oil district of Tabasco. The indications in this southern field certainly mark it as the most promising in all Mexico. A high grade of asphaltum has been known to exist in shallow wells there for years, and the surface indications of oil are found over a considerable area. Until now, however, no organized effort has been made to learn what really lies under the surface.
